

Urban Building Projects did their bit during the season of goodwill as they helped to erect a giant Christmas tree in Penketh Village ahead of a community carol service.

The service at the Honiton Way shopping centre will take place at 6.30pm on Saturday, December 21 and a Christmas card is being sent to every household in the area inviting them to come along.

It's the first time in a generation that Penketh has had its own Christmas tree – and it is getting local people into the Christmas spirit.

Urban's Office Manager, Nicky Palmer, commented, "We were delighted to join forces with a number of local partners to ensure that Penketh got what it deserved in the way of a giant tree."

Adding, "We are sure it will be a great focal point for the carol service and on behalf of Urban Building Projects we would like to wish everybody in the local area a Happy Christmas and New Year."

Photo: Billy Vaughan (Fiddlers Ferry Power Station), Cllr Linda Dirir, Susan Mossop (Penketh Library, Livewire), Mike Hannon (Urban Builders), Martin Kettle (MK Electrical), Cllr David Keane and Cllr Allin Dirir who have all helped in spreading the Christmas cheer in Penketh.