Urban meet the Queen

Mike Hannon, Contracts Manager at Urban Building Projects had a once in a lifetime experience when he was able to meet the Queen and The Duke of Edinburgh.

The Royal party was in Warrington to be given an overview of the Orford Park Project, which Mike has personally been involved with for the last ten years via his role as a local councillor.

It was the Queen's first official visit to the town since 1979 and she toured the development and also saw the Orford Park Community Centre and the Orford Park Hub.

Other members of the Urban team including Carl Palmer, Nicky Palmer and Vinny Cosgrove were also in attendance at the event on what was a great day for the town.
